Annual Women's History Month program honoring the accomplishments of School of Medicine-associated women who are/were the first in their field/program/area of study.

This year's featured women are:

Dr. Kay Vydareny and Dr. Gina Northington

Dr. Vydareny, Emory Professor of Radiology, Emeritus, is the first woman to hold numerous leadership roles in her professional organizations. She received Gold Medals from the American Roentgen Ray Society in 2002, the American College of Radiology in 2005 and the Association of University Radiologists in 2006, and the Marie Curie Award of the American Association for Women Radiologists in 2002. She was selected as the outstanding teacher in the Department of Radiology by the Emory University School of Medicine Class of 2004.

Dr. Northington, assistant professor, female pelvic medicine and reconstructive surgery, is one of the first ABOG-approved female pelvic medicine and reconstructive surgeons in Atlanta. And under her leaderships, , Emory has the first ACGME accredited FPM&RS Fellowship program in the Atlanta area Dr. Northington currently researches the age-related effects of estrogen on neuroinflammation and overactive bladder symptoms.

Please join us as these remarkable women share their stories and answer your questions.
